Influential Committee Issues a Statement that the Country May Expect Practically Famine Prices for Bread.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.1
LONDON. Feb. 8.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The influential committee, headed by the Duke of Sutherland, Lord Strathcona, Lord Charles Beresford and a numbers of members of Parliament, admirals and other prominent men, which was formed February 1 to agitate the question of the security of Great Britain's food supply in time of war. issued a statement today, in which the opinion is expressed that in the event of Great Britain becoming involved in a European war, the country must be prepared to see bread at practically famine prices.

Various reasons are given as a basis of this opinion. The chief reasons are that the greatest source of Great Britain's food supply is the United States, where the price of wheat can be raised artificially, and that the corn trade on both sides of the Atlantic would expect to make profits on a scale combining and places.

"I will say there is every likelihood that Bolivia will declare null her contract with the Angio-American syndicate for the use of the Acre territory. The occupation of the territory of Brasil and the nullification mean the end of the dispute which has threatened serious consequences."

The Minister was asked whether Brasil would give indemnity to the Angio-American syndicate.

"That is not Brasil's business," he replied, "since the contract with the syndicate was made by Bolivia, and not by Brasil. Brasil has nothing to do with the syndicate, not having dealt with it in any way."

EXTATEHOOD DEBATE NEAR END.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—All indications point to the conclusion of the debate on the Statehood bill during the present week, but no one can tell at this time just when in the week the change will come, or how it will come. If the plans of the Republican leaders who oppose the Statehood bill are put into effect, the Committee on Territories will bring in a substitute bill early in the week, providing for consolidation and the admission of two States. This will probably not be done/however, unless assurance can be secured that the full Republican vote can be obtained for the consolidation.

If this plan does not take shape, Senator Quay is likely to press his Statehood amendment on the Agricultural Appropriation Bill and a test of strength would ensue. The vote on this but the state of the consolidation.

amendment will be very close, if taken, and while the Omnibus bill advocates feel that they have a majority, they realize that it will not be so large as it would be on a direct vote on the Statehood bill alone and by itself. There is now some talk of admitting only Oklahoma, but if this should be undertaken it will be only as a last resort, and will be postponed until toward the end of the session. All Senators are becoming very restless under the present conditions, and it is evident that they cannot long continue.

Tomorrow, in accordance with no-der the present conditions, and it is evident that they cannot long continue.

Tomorrow, in accordance with notice given by Senator Allison, the bill making appropriations for the District of Columbia will be taken up. Some portions of this bill will arouse debate, but advantage will be taken up. Some portions of this bill will arouse debate, but advantage will be taken of the opportunity to further the efforts to compromise the differences on the Statehood bill. An effort also will be made during the week to secure consideration of the Cuban reciprocity treaty. A portion of the time next Saturday will be devoted to eulogies on the lives of deceased members of the House.

The House will resume work on the appropriation bills tomorrow. Tomorrow is District of Columbia day. Beginning Tuesday the appropriation bills will be kept to the fore. The Sundry Civil and Naval Appropriation bills will be kept to the fore. The Sundry Civil and Naval Appropriation bills will be considered first.

A special rule will be required for the consideration of the Naval Bill, as it contains a considerable amount of legislation (especially that for increasing the number of officers in the service,) which is deemed vital, and unless as special rule is adopted, all new legislation would be subjected to a point of order.

Friday is pension day, but if other things press, the leaders may decide not to give up the day to this class of business. The session is so far advanced that minor matters have to give way for the supply budgets and other imperative matters. The friends of the Currency Bill are still insistent on time for consideration of their bill, but the chances for it are growing more slim, and unless time is given this week, it is difficult to figure how it will be possible to give it any time.

claims. The blockade will be raised when the protocols are signed. They are in constant communication with their governments on this subject, and are axious to cover every detail which should be comprised in an instrument of this character. Mr. Bowen also is anxious that the protocols shall be identical so far as this may be practicable, and he is directing his efforts to that end, and also that they shall be signed on the same day.

Minister Bowen was in communication with the English and Italian Ambassadors and the German Ambassador today. He saw Sir Michael Herbert at the latter's home, the Ambassador today. He saw Sir Michael Herbert at the latter's home, the Ambassador Sill having a disagreeable cold. From the instructions he has received, Ambassador Herbert has presented the draft of a protocol which submitted to Minister Bowen. It is the first of the three protocols which have been prepared, and the manner in which it was drawn was very satisfactory to Venezuela's representative. Nothing seriously objectionable had ben inserted in its provisions, and the Minister found only one or two places where he felt called on to suggest any changes. He is convinced that the Ambassador is making every effort to bring the vexatious matters to a close, and to arrange a protocol which will be mutually satisfactory.

The Italian Ambassador was at Mr. Bowen's apartments on two occasions today, with reference to the terms of the protocol, and the German Minister is working diligently on the German protocol. He saw Mr. Bowen today for a conference regarding some feature of the instrument.

Mr. Bowen continues optimistic of an early settlement and speedy raising of the blockade. He is hopeful that no perplexing or vexatious problems may intervene, now that the matter has progressed so far, and that it will not be long before the whole question of the preferential treatment of the claims themselves, including those of the allegand of the settlement of the claims themselves, including those of the lided and of the

The British protocol provides for the reference of the contention of the al-reference of the contention of the allles for preferential treatment to The of £5500 cash and for the immediate raising of the blockade. The matter of the adjudication of the claims and the collection of the 30 per cent. out of which those are to be paid has been left for the second protocol.

Italy, it has been learned, wishes to have inserted in her protocol an article providing for a change in her treaty of amity with Venezuela, so as to include the "favored-nation" clause, such as the other powers possess. Mr.
Bowen has explained that while he is willing to use his influence to secure this, he can do nothing more in the protocol than recommend it, as the matter is entirely irrelevant to the present treaty. There are also provisions in the Italian protocol which do not meet the approval of Mr. Bowen, and the Italian Ambassador has cabled to Rome for permission to withdraw them.

Regarding the German protocol, lit-

Regarding the German protocol, little is known except that it is along the general lines of the other two. Several changes have been made in it since yesterday, and other changes are likely. It is understood that the German protocol will be somewhat shorter and more concise than the British, and probably will not contain more than eight articles. It wil provide for an initial payment of the same amount as those of Italy and Great Britain. The last-named country will receive its first payment in cash, Germany and Italy being content to receive theirs thirty days after the signing of the protocols.

"First. It would largely increase the expense of State government without any adequate benefit to the body of taxpayers, on whom the burden would rest.

"Second. It would create a political machine, centralized at the State capital, but with ramifications as extended as the course of all the streams of the State.

"Third. It would inevitably involve enormous and costly litigation over rights already established and in user. Which would rest most heavily upon those least able to bear ft.

"Fourth. It would result in giving to corporations public franchises of priceless value without recompense to the State, and thereby create a private monopoly in water which would oppress the people for generations to come.

"Survey and the body of taxpayers would fix the duty of water should be at stake. You can readily imagine how such a scheme is fraught with possibilities of injustice, even of corruption, in a land where water is the most waluable thing that men can fight for. The result would be social disturbance and endiess litigation. There are places where the duty of water should be determined after thorough a disturbance and endiess litigation. There are places where the duty of water should be determined after thorough scientific investigation and patient judicial adjudication. Smythe said the hearings before the Legislative Committee at Sacramento would develop the dangers and defects of the bill in full detail but that he realized that a San Francisco audience would be interested only in the larger aspects of the question. One of these is the enormous expense which would be saddled upon the taxpayers at large. It is estimated that the cost of putting this law into effect would not be less than $1,500,000 the first year, and that the annual charge would be about half as much. This expense would be at least doubled by the litigation to arise in consequence.

"I can put the vital question to you in these words: Shall we make California another Ireland? That is the proposition in a nutshell. Corporate ownership of water apart from land, no matter how it may be enterpuarded in our laws, means the absence water lord, occupying precisely the same economic relation to the masses of our agricultural population as the absence landlord occupies to those of Ireland. Will you make the ancient grief of the Emerald Isle the future sorrow of California? Will you have the peasant or proprietor? Will you have the melting snow of the Sierras cantialized and owned in New York at the capital, but with its dependents and beneficiaries distributed as widely as all the streams of the State. It will be a compact working body such as the managing politicians have never devised, because it will control the water on which thousands of people depend. Does San Francisco want to pay the bill for this politician machine and dance to its music in election times?

GREAT ECONOMIC QUESTION.

"But there is something in this bill more sinister than litigation, vast experience, vast expense, political power, and menace to existing rights," the speaker declared. "We have come to a new chapter in the history of California. We have talked about our big things, but in the matter of irrigation, at least, we have been doing little between the melting snow of the Sierras the melting snow of the Sierras and London, or will you make the people free? These figures are callproduction last year places the amount at $17,124,541. These figures are calling out some very robust exceptions. It would seem to be the custom of the mint officials to figure low in their estimates. It that is done for the purpose of allowing the final returns to show increases over the estimates, then the method in their madness should not be too harshly criticised. The probabilities are extremely good that final figures of California's gold production for the year 1962 will show a very substantial increase over the preliminary estimate of the Director of the Mint; it is customary to make two estimates before final figures are obtained and published. In the preliminary estimate of California's gold production for the year 1901, the figures sent out were $15,370,700. In the revised statement issued some months lajer, the figures were corrected and the value of California's gold production for that year, placed at $16,885,764. It is very likely that the figures for 1902 will undergo a corresponding change, and will show in the revised statement to be issued later, that California's gold production isst year was in the neighborhood of $18,500,000.

The Better Wan

When asslight cold fastens on you in early winter you are apt to regard it merely as an annoyance-not a thing worth serious consideration. You usually feel like taking something syrupy, with perhaps a touch of spirits in it, to warm you up and stop the cough. But there is a better

The cough, the red eyes and uncomfortable head are not the cold. They are only the symptoms. They are like the leaves of a weed sticking above ground. The surest way to get rid of them and prevent their sprouting again is to pull up the root.

You sometimes say, "This cold is all over me." Every cold you have is, to a certain degree, all over you. It is evidence of a slight general weakness. It usually steals in on you at a time when the body is a little below its normal tone and the surest way to get rid of it is to bring the whole system up to its right

You may need some medicine. Your doctor will know. But a mere expectorant will do nothing toward restoring the body to a healthy standard. At the bestits action is merely local and gives only tempo-rary relief. Scott's Emulsion does this and more.

A small quantity of the emulsion taken regularly for a few days will supply the lack of proper nourishment in ordinary food. It is rich in the substances of which healthy blood is composed, and makes itself quickly felt in the throat and bronchial tubes. It starts the flow of mucous and relieves an obstinate cough sooner than any expectorant will do.

The emulsion does more than rid you of a cough. It rids you of the cold which is the root of the cough. Still more, it helps to protect you against a return of the trouble and against its going deeper.

Scott's Emulsion is aptly termed a food-medicine. It contains the nourishing properties of the whole cod liver oil, emulsified and combined with the medicinal qualities of hypophosphites, of lime and soda. It is probably more widely recommended by physicians for use in coughs and colds than any other preparation.

So-called wines, cordials and extracts of cod liver oil do not contain the value of the whole oil and are worthless in cases where a pure reliable cod liver oil preparation is needed. Scott's Emulsion has been the standard for over twenty-five years.

We will send a sample free to anyone on request.

Vatican Will Return to the Original . Proposition of the United States to Arbitrate for Purchase of Friar Lands. [BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]

The Vatican emphatically denies all the rumors of Cardinal Rampolla's dissatisfaction regarding Gov. Taft's attitude in the Philippine questions. Dissatisfaction is felt at the Vatican to-satisfaction is felt at the Vatican toward the arrangements initiated by M. Guidi's predecessors with the mediators, to whom, in addition to large salaries, they promised 25 per cent. of the property the mediators should succeed in retaining for the church.

The nature of Manager Guidi's latest reports and mature consideration seem to have decided the Vatican that the best solution is to return to the original proposition made by the United States to resort to arbitration for the purchase of the friar lands, the settlement of the rentals, the indemnity for damage due from the United States and the administration of the charitable and educational trusts. It is rumored that the Pope has always supported this sainting.

This chamber has also taken pains to learn the sentiment of persons and corporations vitally interested in irrigation and water rights and interested deeply in the action of the Legislature on this bill. From the information it has gained, this chamber is absolutely forced to the conclusion that our people are uncompromisingly opposed to the bill—that they should not be compelled to have their precious water rights unsettled, and tgain be compelled to enter the arena of personal strife and costly litigation to hold rights which, after half a century of such strife and litigation, the pourts have already awarded them.

"To enter upon the criticisms and shjections to the bill, so urgently made before us, and as explanatory or our action, we believe to be unnecessary, as we doubt not such criticisms will be fairly and intelligently made in the floors of the Legislature.

In pring the exercise of kindness and forebearance, the old temperance warrior said: "You can knock a fellow saily with a little kindness."

The audience contained many well-known people of the city last night, and the meeting was most enthusiastic. One of the first signers of the pledge, when Francis Murphy came to Los Angeles, was a Welchman, who was on the platform last night. He made a short speech, but it was a good one.

Among the musical features were two bass solos by Mr. Annend. His first number was so well received that he responded with "The Holy City."
He has a rich, musical voice of medium regisser, and sings with ease and beauty. Both numbers were most enjoyable and delighted the audience that filled every seat in the hall.

gar, calling upon Christ to give him sight. He said:

"Of course, we all recognize the need and the advantage of certain social changes. It is better, for example, to have been born in the United States than in Russia or in Cuba.

"Carlyib was right when he described an American as 'an Englishman with a chance,' and every enlightened man rejoices that in the various civilized nations of the world chances are multiplying. The mistakes of the past are being righted, and there is constant progress. He who denies this simply shows that he has never studied history.

"But I wonder whether in these modern times we are not inclined to overemphasize what society, or the State, can do for us, and underestimate what we must do for ourselves. A very important distinction is frequently overlooked in discussing social conditions. There are two classes of ills; the first are due to the faults or errors of eivic institutions. They are the outgrowth of the greed and dishonesty of men of power; they are fit subjects for popular agitation, and for every such agitation I thank God with all my heart; for ogitation leads to education, and education to organization, and organization to amelioration. But this amelioration is gradually taking place, so that we can this morning lay that aside.

"This question most of you must settle today. If the man in the text had waited for social changes to lift him out of his misery, he would have died blind. You cannot wait ten years for society to be recognized, any more than he could wait a hundred. Besides, by far the larger number of ills and impediments which we meet belong to another class, which is utterly independent of social reforms. If the world were to be made ideal, so far as reorganization could make it so, we should still have these things to contend with. You cannot, for example, legislate winter out of the country. All the laws of the United States Congress could not keep summer from being hot, and no system conceivable can make everybody healthy and wealthy and wise.

They are inevitable under any form

Law of Service.

Rev. C. J. K. Jones preached yesterday morning in the Church of the Unity on the "Law of Service." He said, in part:

"In the reading of history the thoughtful reader is impressed with the fact of the enormous sacrifices of human life that have been required to achieve the world's progress. In addition to these sacrifices of life there have been the sacrifices of life there have been the sacrifices of toil, of hardships manifold, of persistent endurance and of heroic courage. With a great price have we obtained the unbounded privileges and blessings that we now enjoy, and that not of our own efforts. Not through ease, or leisure undisturbed, but through the strenuous life of suffering have men, and women, too, made the world better. The martyrdom of man for the sake of his fellowmen is one of the persistent facts in the history of the evolution of our race. Viewed from our distaht standpoint of safety, there seemingly have been millions unnecessarily sacrificed in the past. The hisseemingly have been millions unneces-sarily sacrificed in the past. The his-tory of the past is largely the history of bloodshed in wars and persecutions, wherein the life of a man was held as cheaply as that of an animal. Man has been a warring animal from the

Blanchard Hall last night, the story of the Prodigal Son. The hero of the blue ribbon elucidated the story after his inimitable fashion, saying:

"This young fellow wanted to cut loose from his father and go it alone. When his money was all gone he found out how little the world cared for him, and when he wanted his breakfast he had to tackle a corn cob."

He illustrated his talk with several touching stories of lost jewels and the difficulties attending their recovery.

"I plead with you, sons and daughters, to forsake sin and get on the right track. I don't care what it is now; whether it is drink or any other consuming sin. I plead with you as one who has passed through the awful scorching fire of adversity, to turn and walk the other way.

"I can't tell you the joy it will bring. It's the language this world does not know; it's the language of heaven—the radiance of a summer's day that knows fo chill."

He urged upon fathers the necessity of making home attractive with bewling alleys and billiard tables and music.

"Don't turn your daughters out into a kind of a lottery, to go walking down the street with some fellow you never saw."

Pastor Joseph Smale preached yesterday morning upon "Sweetness in Unlikely Places," from the scripture in Judges xiv. 8-3, "He turned aside to see the carcass of the lion, and, behold, there was a swarm of bees and honey in the carcass of the lion, and, behold, there was a swarm of bees and honey in the carcass of the lion, and went on eating." "The scene," the preacher said, "Is a parable of our earthly life. Like Samson, we are all in search of sweetness. He had pictured for himself what would be a happy estate. His heart was charmed with one of the daughters of the Philistines, the possession of whom would be the measure of his desires and delights. Domestic biles and national renown would result. But the former did not come to pass, By the story we learn that he got much more honey out of the lion than out of his girl, for she deceived him.

"What a disposition there is in all the arts to plan their own happiness, and pleasant conditions are the objective point, but the story of Samson suggests there are other sources of good, and experience, affirms it. Joseph's thirteen years of tribulation yielded him a throne. The archers sorely grieved him and shot at him, and hated him at throne. Rev. C. P. He said in part:

"Evil is short-lived, the good only is eternal.

"Some one has sneeringly said that if he had been creating the world he would have made health and happiness contagious and not evil and the measles—the fact is that while disease is contagious, so is health and joy and laughter, and more than this, evil runs its course in three or four generations, while health goes on through a thousand generations, with its mission of blessing.

"The tree that is diseased witherafalls to bear fruit and produce seed, and so dies, leaving no life after it, while the tree ful of sap, puts forthnew leaves, bears fruit and seed in a new generation.

"The drunkard transmits his disease and tendencies to vice to his offspring, and these weaken life in both himself and his children, while sobriety hands on its heritage of strength and life to a thousand generations.

"Vice destrops the individual that harbors it, while virtue adds strength to vigor and joy to life.

"The law of heredity contains the whole truth about the survival of the nitest and the destruction of the undit it contains also the fundamental principle of the theory of evolution, for development or degeneration depends upon the character of the forces handed down from the life of the past.

"This law/teaches the certain annihilation of iniquity and sin against God, while on the other hand it teaches that the forces of nature are redemption.

"Nature seeks to cure the cut on the tree he same as on the finger.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The report that Gen. Uribe-Uribe had committed suicide causes considerable surprise here. After his surrender to the Colombian authorities, he performed valuable services for the Colombian government, inducing various guerrilla chieftains to desist in their opposition to the government and to surrender. Subsequently he went to Bogota, and was cordially received. He was less than 40 years of age; was a brilliant fighter, and was long a thorn in the side of Colombia.

Colombian officials here also are surprised and grieved at reports of a threatened revolutions in Colombia, Dr. Herron, the chargé d'affaires of Colombia in Washington, says he can conceive of no reason why there should he a revolutionary movement. Redskins from Warner Ranch Expected to Settle Peacefully on Rich Bottom Lands of San Luis Rey River. Ultimatum to Striking Unionists.

INPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES;
SAN DIEGO, Feb. 8.—The deed for the land which is to form a part of the new home of the Warner Ranch Indians in the Pala country, was placed on record here yesterday, at the request of William Collier of Riverside, special attorney for the Indians, who approved the abstract of title. The deed reads from Frank Salmons, the Pala merchant, to the government, Salmons having negotiated the deal. It is indorsed by Secretary Hitchcock of the Department of the Interior, and by the Indian division of the department. It is the opinion here that the withdrawal from entry of additional lands in that section means the concentration of Indians there.

Last Friday Miss Georgia Kendall, '06, business manager of the Pomona College basket ball team, met Pomona College basket ball team, met at Los Angeles the representatives of the Pasadena High School, Marlbor-ough, Giris' Collegiate and Ontario High School teams. At this meeting plans were discussed for the formation of a league of a half-dozen or more of the stronger teams. Within a week the various representatives will meet again at the Mariborough school in Los Angeles, and formally organize the league and elect officers for the follow-

The practice of the Pomona College team this year was begun early, and is carried on with vigor, in the anticipation of a second successful season of sport.

The Y.M.C.A. Meteor team has issued a challenge to the State Normal School team for a game of basket ball to be played in the gymnasium of either team, as soon as it can be arranged. The manager of the Meteor team says he has been looking for a game with the Normal team for several weeks.

At the Normal gym last Friday night, the Normals defeated the team of Throop Institute, by a score of 23 to 5.

COLISEUM TEAM LEADS IN BOWLING AVERAGES.

SANTA MONICA STILL HOLDS TO SECOND PLACE.

Tournament is Drawing to a Close and Interest in the Possible Prize-Games for This Week.

Nothing startling developed the past week to excite the local bowling world, the games resulting only in the average scores. The men are well into the last half of the tournament and from now on the interest should increase, for the players now see the prises in sight. Just who will land the big ones, is hard to even guess at, for any week may put any of the five leading clubs out of the race. Bowling is a very uncertain sport, and the probable first and second prize winners will not be known for at least a month.

The schedule of games for this week, is as follows:

Chutes.
Tuesday—Ocean Park vs. Long Beach, at Long Beach; Owls vs. Marble Palalce, at Oaks.
Wednesday—Belmont vs. Santa Monica, at Belmont; B. B. C. Co. vs. Tufts-Lyon, at Coliseum.

ere is also some talk of a train-table, but whether or not it will rialize is uncertain.

At Claremont Saturday afternoon the "try-out" of the 440-yard was held to determine the best material for the relay team which is to meet that of U. S.C. on the 23d inst. Eleven men entered the lists, and all but Newman Noble and Hume of the junior class had handicaps of from three to ten yards. The scratch men were pocketed a large part of the distance, but in the final sprint both Noble and Newman passed the bunch close together, Noble winning first and Newman second place. Roy Thomas, with a handicap of five yards, got third place, and Hume, scratch, came in fourth; Noble's time was 67 seconds.

garding the Day's First Meal. breakfast cereal is about as simple a form as they could find in which to take the sweet, and since they have a craving—a perfectly natural craving—for sugar, they are less likely to strive to satisfy it with candy and the like if they are given sugar on the foods that seem to demand it. For the same reason that it is good for children—that is, because it makes force and heat—it will do no harm to the man who is going to engage in active outdoor work.

STEAK FOR BRAWN. s to be done out of doors—will 'need something substantial. More decidedly will he need it if he is to snatch a hasty lunch at noon, and have practically nothing more than a bite between breakfast and a late dinner. But the man who leads a sedentary life is cutting out a good deal of work for his digestion when he puts heavy meat into his stomach the first thing in the morning, and takes no active exsercise afterward to assist in disposing of it.

There are so many thin the store of the store o the morning, and takes no active exercise afterward to assist in disposing of it.

There are so many things to have for breakfast besides steak and chops that it seems almost a gity to eat these at the first meal of the day, instead of reserving them for use later on. Bacon is always with us-bacon, the appetizing the palatable, the easily-prepared, the easily-digested.
And yet perhaps I make a mistake
when I say that it is easily prepared.
Judging from the frequency with which I have eaten it poorly cooked. I should judge that it was as hard to cook it well as to boil an egg, or make a cup of tea, or toast a elice of bread properly.

In the first place, the bacon must not be too fat. One recalls the Irishman who overfed his pig one day and starved it the next, in order that he might have a streak of fat and a streak of lean in his bacon, and wishes there were more like him—or at least that the patent could be worked on the pigs who furnish bacon for the market. Fat bacon is not appetizing, and lean or streaked bacon is not always easy to get. In buying it the small pleces should be selected—those that do not weigh over three pounds or so. The larger, thicker pleces are almost sure to be too fat. Then, when it is bought, it must be sliced very thin. This is a fact few cooks grasp, and so we have thick, greasy bacon. A sharp knife and a careful hand are necessary in this process.

Next comes the cooking. The ideal method is to broll if over or before an open fire, but this is not always practicable. It may be fried—the frying pan made very hot, the bacon laid in it, and cooked quickly to what might be called a tender crisp, when the fat loses its clearness and begins to become a trifle opsque. It must be taken from the pan with a fork or a split spoon, that the fat which has cooked from it may not come away with it, and then be laid on a hot platter and eaten from a hot plate. All this is not hard to do, but its being done or left undone makes all the difference between good and poor bacon.

But breakfast is not all bacon, although this dish back the set with the set of the property of the set HOW TO COOK BACON.

BACON FOR BRAIN WORKERS.

That is, as I have said before, always bearing in mind the kind of work the eater is going to do, and the kind of food he is to eat later in the day. The active commercial worker may tuck away his heavy breakfast as the laboring man may do, without feeling the discomfort from it that would be felt by the man who is to sit still and work his brain all day. For him the fish or bacon or egg breakfast is much more beneficial.

The idea is exploded that, fish makes phosphorus to such an extent in the brain that it is an exception.

makes phosphorus to such an extent in the brain that it is an especially suitable food for mind workers. But fresh fish—boiled, not fried—is more easily digested than the heavier meat at the first meal of the day, while bacon is especially valuable to the brain worker. In that it supplies the fat he needs for the replenishing of his nervous energy. There is a theory that the nervous energy in which the American race surpasses the European races is largely due to the greater amount of fat consumed on this side than on the other. However this may be, the fat found in the bacon and in the egg makes them excellent items in the breakfast dietary of the man or twoman who works the brain more than the body.

THE HOT BREAD QUESTION.

THE HOT BREAD QUESTION. Te have or not to have hot bread for preakfast is a question that is pretty uire to provoke discussion. Perhaps here were more for it a few years ago offerward, it is the fruit close it. It certain the fruit close it. It certain officely necessal it is not fit to be made a compromise. One reason for the common objection to be content with bread-and-milk or fannel griddle-cakes, instead of heavier or more hardly digested compounds, the is lucky—and so are they.

One reason for the common objection to toast as a breakfast dish is that it is not fit to eat as bread is not fit to be made into toast. Even when the bread is all it should be, the toast is often amoked or scoreched or done too much in one spot and not enough in another—When toast is made of good bread, the crusts well trimmed, the slices cut of the right thickness, the browning evenly done, the butter—if it is buttered—spread on smoothly, to ast must be more or less a matter of personal choice. Men, You Can Be Cured

Why Suffer From a Single Ailment in the List of Men's Maladies?

Why Be Less Than a Perfect, Strong and Manly Man?

Why Walk the Streets an Old Young Man, Always Conscious of Your Weakness?

Strength, Vim, Happiness and Ability to Fight Life's Battles Are Before You. Will You Take Them, or Will You Go On in Your Imperfection and Weakness?

I say the things that I know. I leave unsaid the things that I am not absolutely certain about, or else I express the uncertainty in saying them. I feel that I am qualified to speak knowingly upon all medical subjects. I feel that I have a right to speak emphatically in regard to the diseases and disorders that constitute my specialty. The diplomas that have been awarded me by the best medical colleges and hospitals in the world are ample evidence of my qualification as a physician. My sixteen years' experience in curing diseases of men has given me a knowledge of this line of allments that enables me to make direct and definite statements, and it enables me to prove to you that my statements are founded upon fact and are correct.

I say that you can be cured. I stand ready to back up this statement with proof. I ask you to call at my office and talk with me about it. Examination and consultation will cost you nothing, and I will explain to you something about my methods of curing. The methods I will tell you about are unlike those employed by any other doctor. They are, in their chief essentials, methods of my own devising. They are founded upon a knowledge of else I express the uncertainty in saying them. I the truth in regard to diseases of men. That's why they cure, and why they are the only methods that can soundly and thoroughly cure. It may be that you have been treated by numerous doctors and have received nothing more than temporary relief, or, perhaps, in some instances you received no relief whatever. That isn't evidence that your case is inadequate and did not remove the cause of your trouble. Strong tonies, for instance, may have a stimulating effect in cases of so-called weakness. For a time there may be promising indications of complete restoration of all the functions, or the patient may even believe himself, cured. Then the effect of the dosing passes away and the weakness is greater than before, because the exciting influence of the remedies has aggravated the condition of which the weakness is a symptom. You can readily understand that such treatment could not possibly cure, and that its failure to cure isn't the slightest indication that your case cannot be cured when treated rightly. I promise you a different treatment; a treatment that corrects the condition responsible for the weakness and demonstrates the truth of my statement that you can be cured.

I Am Always Willing to Wait for My Fee Until Cure Is Effected.

"Weakness"

I cure so-called weakness by restoring the prostate gland to its normal condition. I know that "weaknesses" are but symptoms resulting from an inflammatory process in this vital center of the nervous system, and I know that this inflamed condition always yields promptly to the gentle and harmless local treatment that I employ. I will cure every case of treatment, and my charges will in every instance be absolutely reasonable.

Many who are but slight y fflicted with varicocele believe that the trouble is of little consequence. The opposite is true. Varicocele is a disease of a progressive nature. As it advances, nervous complications come, power diminishes and the general health is impaired. I cure Varicocele in five days without the use of knife, ligature or caustic, without pain and without detention from business.

Contracted Disorders

Every case of contracted disease I treat is cured thoroughly. My patients have no relapses. When I pronounce a case cured, there is not a particle of infection or inflammation remaining, and there isn't the allighest durer, that the disease. the slightest danger that the dis-case will return in its original form or work its way into the gen-eral system. CUTTING BREAKFAST OUT.

It will be observed that I have said nothing in favor of the no-breakfast fad, which has sprung into prominence within the past few years. Its advocates cannot say too much in its praise, and all over the country are persons found who declare they had never known health until they stopped eating breakfast.

and all over the country are persons found who declare they had never known health until they stopped eating breakfast.

The reasons why this mea! was intermitted differ. Some persons have sworn off, because they suffered from dyspepsia and believed that the stomach needed more rest than a night's abstinence gave it. Others have stopped eating breakfast because of a desire to reduce too abundant flesh. Others have tried going without from motives of economy of time or money, or just to see if they could do it. In nearly all cases there was some discomfort—headache and emptiness, at first—but after this wore off they felt better than before.

One of the most amusing objections I have heard to the new plan was advanced by a young woman who had been told by a friend that her family en bloc had renounced the first meal. "But how do you begin the day?" queried the other. "How do you start things when there is no breakfast? Do you have family prayers?"

She was told that the family gathered in the sitting-room and sat about reading the papers as a kind of morning function. But this did not satisfy her. "I shouldn't feel as if the day had been properly begun and would keep going right 'f there hadn't been anything more than that," she said.

To many persons the release from a family breakfast table would be one of the prime recommendations of the new scheme. So far as its other advantages are concerned one does not dare to advice without reserve. It is too radical an alteration in general habits for any one to counsel its adoption by wholesale. Each one must settle for himself so grave a matter as that of abstaining from food until noon. But if breakfast is to be eaten, let the items of which it is composed be selected with some regard to the constitutions and kinds of work to be done by the persons to eat it—not picked up at random, with no consideration for peculiarities of bodily habit or ocupation.

My treatment is different from others, so are the results.

The methods I use will appeal more particularly to those who have been disappointed in former treatment, to those who have sought a permanent cure and have only received temporary relief. The importance of experience of the right kind cannot be overestimated in the treatment and cure of chronic conditions. I use such means as will preclude the possibility of an error in ascertaining the "Exact Cause" and conditions to be treated, and when I have determined the condition to be treated I will know just what to do and how to do it. I insist upon a most thorough examination, which is the foundation of a cure. I make a particular study of each condition to be treated, note changes as they appear and assist by natural and rational influences until the results are what you expect and all I claim for my treatment. During 20 years this has been the principle upon which I've built my practice.

port on its feasibility.

NEW RAILROAD RUSHING.

The first construction work on the Midland Pacific Railroad was begun this week in the Cuyama Valley, where a contract has been let for the grading of the first ten miles. Considerable machinery is on the ground, and the work is being rushed. The railroad company has men out in all parts of the proposed route, making surveys and securing rights of way. A party of surveyors under the chief engineer is now working six miles south of Santa Maria, but the aim of its labors is a mystery. It is surmised, however, that the survey is for a branch line to tap the Western Umion and Pinal oil fields south of here, with the bare possibility of continuing on to the ocean, and building a pier at Point Sal, where in the early days considerable shipping was carried on.

It has not been given out for certain yet whether the road will touch Santa Maria, although every pressure will be brought to bear on non-consenting land owners, who are holding off for big prices for right of way, and which is the only thing that will prevent the line from passing through this city. From McKittrick to Fugiar's Point twelve miles up the valley, the company has practically a clear right of way, all the larger land holders according every concession asked by the railroad people.

YOUNG BURGLARS CAUGHT.

On the return trip Thursday 560 sacks of wheat were taken to San Francisco. On Friday the steamer Fulton took to San Francisco 109 bales of wool, 1029 sacks of beans, 3570 sacks of wheat, 23 sacks of walnuts and 12 sacks of dried peaches.

The regular meeting of the "Y" Society at the home of Mrs. John Dewar was well attended, and eix new names were proposed for membership. The young people are expecting to take an active part in the County W. C.T.U. Institute, which will be held in Hueneme on the 17th and 18th of this month.

YOUNG BURGLARS CAUGHT.
Two young men named Frank Knight and James Munroe have been arrested for burglary committed in the Santa Ynez Mountains. On returning to his homestead W. H. Hilton found he had been robbed of his shotgun, a quantity of ammunition and numerous household articles. He immediately took the trail of the thieves from his home, and in a short time overtook them with the stolen goods. The thieves dropped their booty and fied, but word was at once telephoned from Santa Ynez to Sheriff Stewart in Santa Barbara, who arrested the pair there. After being locked up in the County Jail Munroe confessed the robbery, and also stated that they had stolen a horse, which was sold for $10. The Sheriff recovered the horse.

COMPLICATED LAND CASE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 8.—A case of importance and full of legal complications was decided last evening by Judge Ewing of Ventura, sitting for Judge Taggart, in which the sale of the historic Rancho Los Prietos y Najalayegua and the proceeds thereof were involved. Nearly a score of persons were mixed up in the litigation in one way or another, and all of the contesting factions were represented by a formidable array of counsel at the trial. The commissions of the sale PROSPECTS NEVER BETTER. With the abundant rains that have fallen in this valley during the past the historic Rancho Los Prietos y Najalayegua and the proceeds thereof were involved. Nearly a score of persons were mixed up in the litigation in one way or another, and all of the by a formidable array of counsel at the trial. The commissions of the sale amounted to as much money as the sum received by the owner, and it was over this money that the trouble arose.

For purifying the waste pipes, closets, sinks and all waste carrying arrangements, for aprinkling about the cellars, storerooms, etc., Platt's Chlorides has proven a most reliable and economical disinfectant. It is a coloriess liquid, and when diluted and sprinkled about leaves no stain or smell, while it instantly removes any foul odors and destroys disease-breeding matter. A quart bottle will last an average family a month, and it can be obtained at all druggists and high-class grocers.

SANTA MONICA TROLLEY BRIDGE SCHEME.

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 8.—The building of the big Ocean-avenue bridge is to be accomplished without interruption of trolley traffic. The old bridge of the Los Angeles-Pacific Railroad runs along about the middle of the street there. If the old bridge were to be removed before the completion of the new one, it would be necessary to transfer between cars on opposite sides of the bridge, and considerable inconvenience to the traveling public would result. While the work on the new bridge is under way the old one is to be elevated and cars are to pass over it in that position, so the necessity of transferring will be eliminated.

Under present conditions the use of oil means an economy of 50 per cent. Besides this economy of first cost, the oil fuel has also been found advantageous because the oxidizing atmosphere of a roasting furnace can be maintained without those interruptions which take place when fresh coal is added—interruptions which are accompanied by the introduction of reducing gases which temporarily cause the process, of oxidation to remain at a standstill. Moreover, it is possible whith oil, by regulating the air inlet of the furnace, to control the smelting atmosphere so as to obtain oxidizing or reducing conditions, as the metallurgist may desire. The ability to increase the temperature of a metallurgical operation with notable else is another good feature. It is an interesting example of adaptation to conditions, and the readiness with which it has been used is typical of that progressiveness which characterizes the energetic people of the West." and a half barrels of oil are the smelt AT BAKERSFIELD. In session at Houston, F. N. Gray obthe proceeded to create a disturbance. To prevent the continuous repetition of such occurrences and avoid the necessity of having to hunt an officer every time. Sheriff Kelly, at the request of the company, a few days ago issued commissions as deputies to all the car employés.

The street car men are practically the only branch of labor that is entirely unorganized in Bakersfield and Kern. When the craze for organization first struck the city several efforts were made to induce the motormen and conductors, who number about twenty, to form a union. The latter however, were perfectly satisfied with their conditions and rate of pay and refused. While nearly every line has succumbed, they alone have steadily refused to listen to the appeals of the walking delegates.

Hence, when the news of their appointment to office came some of the walking delegates.

Hence, when the news of their appointment to office came some of the leading unionists professed to see in it a terrible menace to the cause of labor. Because they were unwilling to contribute to the prosperity of the so-called leaders, and because as officers they might aid in upholding the law and crushing any attempt at riot that might arise, the car men were branded as enemies of the rest of the laboring men. The Sheriff came in at once for the control of the visit of the secure dependent of the control of Carros, the district organiser of the American Federation of Labor and business agent of the County Council of Labor, has taken the matter up and it is to be considered at the next meeting. He also wired the news of the appointments to Richard Cornellus, president of the street car men's union in San Francisco, aithough just what interest Cornelius may have in the matter, or what concern it is of his is not known.

Carroll, the district organizer, who has taken the matter up, is a bartender, employed at a saloon that had one of the largest gambling houses in the city attached until Sheriff Kelly compelled all of them to close. He is, of course, opposed to the Sheriff, as well as to the street car men, who refuse to join in organizing.

Villages, Diversify Your Industries.

Villages, Diversify Your Industries.

Diversification of small industries is one of the most important factors in the growth of cities and towns. Communities in which the business men are ever ready to assist in the establishment of manufacturing and other enterprises, are more likely to advance, than those in which this spirit is lacking. An instance of assisting new industries comes from action taken at Rome, Ga., during the past week. Two propositions were made for establishing industries there—one a stove foundry, and the othermade for establishing indutsries there—one a stove foundry, and the other—a knitting mill. The business men associated themselves to secure the enterprises, subscribed the money to buy a site for the foundry, thus insuring a plant costing $80,000, and employing about 100 persons. Then they subscribed sufficient capital to induce a northern manufacturer looking for a more suitable location for his hosiery mill, to remove to Rome. Rome's energetic citizens have thus demonstrated their faith in the possibilities of their city and section for advancing along industrial lines to greater things.—[Manufacturers' Record.

Significant Achievement in France.

Significant Achievement in France.

Next June there will start from the Lyons station, in Paris, a train composed of three "automobile" carriages—that is to say, carriages that are both autonomous and motor cars. At a normal speed of sixty-two miles per hour, the distance across France from Calias to Nice can be covered in fourteen hours, according to the London Times.

This invention is now neither a project nor an experiment, but exists and works, and its application is merely postponed for some months, for the construction of the actual rolling stock. The automobile supersedes the locomotive—that is, it dispenses in every train with a weight of 110 tons. It abolishes smoke, steam, noise, vibration, the joit incidental to stopping and starting, and the necessity of stopping to take up water. By means of the slightest possible quantity of petroleum, the smallest possible quantity of water can be converted into the greatest propelling power of steam which can be produced. The ex-

TAMALE POLITICIANS TO PETITION COUNCIL.

WAGON PROPRIETORS HOPE TO REMAIN ON SIDE-STREETS.

Many Dyspepsia-proof and Noseles Citizens Subscribe to the Assertion that the Grease and Onion Foundries "Are Catering to an Appreciative

A petition for the perpetuation of the street tamale wagons, prepared during the past two nights, will be pre-sented to the Council today. The several hundred tamale men, those humble "Hinky Dinks" of the those numble "Hinky Dinks of the curbstone, have done politics with a vengeance for the preservation of their night-working smell foundries. ing of business at 6 o'clock Saturday night.

Every one of the hundred-odd wagons was supplied with long foolscap sheets, with the petition printed at the top and spaces for the occupation and residence of the signers. The petition reads as follows:

"LOS ANGELES, Peb. 7, 1902.

"To the Honorable Members of the City Council—Gentlemen: We, the undersigned, who are citizens and taxpayers of this city, respectfuly ask your august body to refrain from passing an ordinance restricting lunch wagons from standing on the public thoroughfares of this city.

"We claim that the lunch wagons are catering to an appreciative public and to deprive the people of these convenient eating places would prove a great loss to the many local merchants who sell the wagon proprietors various supplies."

Every person stopping at the stands was urged to sign this petition, but as no questions were asked it is considered doubtful whether any considered doubtful whether any considered doubtful whether any considered by of the "chop suey" dispensers in securing signatures proved, them no mean politicians, and it is, likely that in size, as well as in character, the document when presented to the City Fathers will take rank with the famous prayer of ten thousand boose fighters for Sunday opening of the saloons. Just one wagon had secured over a hundred names at an early hour last evening.

It is said the most the tamale wagon magnates expect to secure by their odoriferous calling on the side streets, as public sentiment and the views of the Councilmen dictate that they should not be allowed to disfigure the arterial streets.
